Maricel Jimenez was born and raised in San Juan, Puerto Rico. She began writing at a very early age (to be precise, she wrote before she could write, basically scribbling gibberish on notebooks) and showed an inclination towards poetry and fantasy from the very beginning. She graduated Magna Cum Laude in 2000 with a degree in psychology from the University of Puerto Rico - Mayaguez where she participated in several literature and creative writing courses and workshops. In 1998, she obtained 3rd place in an English short fiction creative writing competition at the University with her short story "The Plebiscite". In 2010, she was a finalist at the En Rojo Micro Story competition with "Preludio".

After 2002 Maricel became a mother and began diving into the world of YA and Middle Grade Fantasy Adventures. She found her niche. Very at home in magical lands with witches, dragons, elves, and the likes, Maricel quickly began researching the myths behind these stories and soon found herself writing her own. Her first Middle Grade fantasy adventure series: The Adventures of Pixie Piper debuted in March 2015 with the first volume: A Fairy's Breath, now available wherever books are sold. Maricel currently lives in Puerto Rico with her two sons and attempts to grow organic food in her balcony. Yesterday she tasted her very first balcony pineapple! When not writing or digging through dirt she likes to pretend she is a circus performer/ballerina and takes aerial silks and ballet classes. The only thing better than writing is dancing. If you play it, she will dance...

Must have

WOW, loved it! Magic starts right from the beginning. Lovely story that develops in a unique, delightful, enchanting & pro-environment fairy world. The books are both great read for kids and adults too! Looking forward to Book 3. (Pedro's wife)
