Customer Reviews

Tiffany Poirier is to be congratulated for her wonderful achievement! Thomas Wartenberg Ph.D, Author and Professor of Philosophy, Mount Holyoke College, Author of Existentialism: A Beginner's Guide. I gave the manuscript to my eight year old daughter. I asked her how she liked it and she gave it four stars (on a four star scale). When I asked her what she liked about it, she said that she liked answering the questions (raised in the book) in her head. James O. Young, Ph.D., Philosophy Department Chair, University of Victoria A charming little book for the philosopher that's inside every child. Angus Taylor, Ph.D, Lecturer, Department of Philosophy, University of Victoria, Author of Animals and Ethics (2003)

Tiffany Poirier lives in Vancouver, British Columbia, where she shares her passion for philosophy as an elementary teacher in gifted education. Today, she presents workshops, creates curriculum materials, and writes articles and books.

The book is well written, the illustrations are great and I liked the questions. I found some questions to be too deep/abstract for my students. For example? What is justice?

We bought this for friends and they read it to their infant often - they love it! Each letter asks questions in poem-form. Here are some letters I remember from a read-through (it's not complete though - there is a website for the book - [...]): R is for reality - What is real? G is for god - Is there one? A is for answers - Are they within? H is for happiness - Is pursuing happiness our purpose on earth.

I ordered this book to share with my grandchildren and was not disappointed. It is a great resource to spark discussion and critical thought (a skill most people are lacking). I highly recommend it to parents and grandparents - you will be rewarded with the interaction it inspires.

wonderful book for children and adults.

This book is setting up my 3 month son to follow in his old man's footsteps. Thank you for making this gem.
