Synopsis

Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts (1) We have not used OCR(Optical Character Recognition), as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos. (2) In books where there are images such as portraits, maps, sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images, so they represent accurately the original artefact. Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts, we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy.

Customer Reviews

This is a first-rate book by a wonderful travel writer, although Belloc was also famous as a poet and political philosopher. It is about a walking trip through Algeria to look at the Roman ruins (in what was once the imperial province of Muritania) on the coastline and in the Atlas mountains. The description of the ancient city of Timgad alone is worth the price of the book.
