The Northwest Gardeners' Resource Directory (9th Edition)

Synopsis

For Stephanie Feeney, The Northwest Gardeners' Resource Directory was a labor of love for over 15 years. Sadly, Feeney passed away this year, yet her amazing contribution to the gardening world lives on in this new edition completely updated by Debra Prinzing. Serious Northwest gardeners know that this is the definitive sourcebook for anyone obsessed with gardening and all its pleasures. And this 9th edition has a major new feature: website addresses. As always, the directory makes it a snap to find nurseries (complete with addresses, hours, driving directions, and full descriptions); international, national, and regional clubs and organizations for every conceivable horticultural interest; reviews of books and magazines; mail-order sources; and much more. A portion of proceeds from the sale of this book will be donated to the Whatcom Hospice Foundation in memory of Stephanie Feeney.

One of the best resources for over a decade... -- Bellingham Herald (Bellingham, WA), June 1, 2002

Stephanie Feeney has been combing the Pacific Northwest and British Columbia for nearly a decade now, finding all the shops, nurseries, gardens and other fabulous resources that make this the horticultural paradise it is. The Seventh Edition of this internationally acclaimed Directory--what Fine Gardening termed "a model of what a regional guide should be"--now is bigger, better, and more thorough than ever! This Guide Makes it a Snap to Find: * Over 350 nurseries, including those small, hard-to-find specialty "gems", complete with addresses, hours, driving directions and full descriptions * Over 200 mail-order sources for seeds, plants, tools, equipment, books and information * Over 300 e-mail and Internet Web sites of interest to gardeners from around the world * Over 200 international, national and regional clubs and organizations for every conceivable horticultural interest * Dozens of reviews of books, magazines and specialty journals * Sources for hard-to-find supplies and materials--from the essential (stone and organics, perhaps) to the bizarre ("Not Tonight Deer" and "Zoo Doo") And all NEW in this edition: Complete coverage of the fabulous * gardening resources of western Oregon More than triple the British * Columbia resources from the previous edition A geographic locator to * help you plan your trips and excursions throughout the region Guest * Essays contributed by some of the most interesting and knowledgeable * gardening writers of the Pacific Northwest--people like Dan Hinkley * of world-renowned Heronswood Nursery, Arthur Lee Jacobson, a winner * of the 1996 American Horticultural Society Book Award and * Vancouver's inimitable Thomas Hobbs of Southlands Nursery and Hobbs. * A warm, witty and humorously insightful Foreword contributed by * Ketzel Levine, National Public Radio's "Doyenne of Dirt". --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

I bought this book to replace the one I gave to a friend, it's invaluable as a resource guide for nurseries both brick and mortar and on-line. Would love to see it get updated.

I was so pleased with the transaction and the book. It was a great transaction with fast shipping and super packaging. Thank you so much.

It's a Northwest garden enthusiast's dream come true! Stephanie Feeney has outdone herself and compiled information in this edition I will refer to again and again. The list of nurseries to visit is complete with directions, business hours, the types of plants they sell and what they specialize in, e-mail addresses, and any other helpful information that may be of interest. I especially appreciate the geographic locator in the very back that breaks down locations by region that makes planning a garden outing a breeze. I even found a few nurseries in my small town that I didn't know existed. Other chapters include organizations that help gardeners, clubs, foundations, societies and volunteer opportunities, education, gardening with children and young people, internet gardening, publications, professional services, gardens to visit, shows and exhibits, and the list goes on. And it's all written in a friendly personal manner.

As an information junkie, I'm always turning to the Internet for fast and up-to-date information for my garden design business. This book has replaced my computer for first-glance information. Debra provides significant editorial value in this reference, which I find dog-eared and well-used in a few short weeks. A must-have for any gardener in the Northwest, and a brilliant gift for a gardener new to the area.
